Hello Everyone. Welcome to Divine Rain. Please contact us to receive a welcome packet which will describe in detail the process and terms of our company if you have not already done so.

Issue #1

Introduction To Divine Rain

We will be writing to you on a quarterly basis for any updates related to the firm. At the current moment we are in the prelaunch phase. We have done extreme due diligence and preparation. Divine Rain LTD is incorporated in the British Virgin Islands, one of the best tax structures and able to accept investors from all around the world. Shares for the offering will begin at $1.00 and will be marked continuously from January onwards. We have already started prelaunch trading operations to ensure we launch at full strength.

To share some insight on how we are currently doing in these market conditions. The firm is up 45% beginning from May 1st, 2022. Our performance comes at a time where we saw a large correction in the markets, following recession fears and record high inflation.

We have a clear vision and core belief system we operate on. We are living in interesting times, and inflation is no joke. I am well aware individuals and companies alike are in a strong need for returns on their time, assets, and money. This is why we will stay true to the inception of what our firm is founded on, generating profit in a consistent manner. There may be times where we go way above and beyond our means, times will we do nothing at all, or take a loss in the short term. Shockingly enough, this simple tried and true philosophy has become rare in today's world.

We are a private trading company entering a cycle no one alive today has seen before. A hybrid between revolutionary digital blockchain technology and global macro. For the savvy investors willing to take advantage of this opportunity, I thank you, and look forward to our future engagements and interactions.

That's all for now, we plan to share most of reports on the website, all investor material will be emailed.
